Orderly-Sergeant G. W. Anderson made the presentation in a very neat speech, and after expressing his appreciation of the testimonial Captain Euker invited his guests in and entertained them handsomely.

TREDEGAR STREET. Opening of a Thoroughfure Which Will Be

A street running parallel to the river bank and adjoining the Tredegar Works is now being opened by the city. Strictly speaking, it is an extension of what is known as Tredegar street, which runs from the foot of Seventh to the gate leading into the Tredegar Works, and will be called by that name. Ultimately this street will be carried westward as far as the nump-house, but at present it will only be extended through the Tredegar to the foot of the Belle Isle bridge.

The opening of this thoroughfars will be a great improvement, as considerable hanling has always been done in that neighorhood, and heretofore all vehicles were compelled to pass through the Tredegar. a Convenience,

BASE-BALL VESTERDAY.

The Fultons Defeat the Old Dominions in a Close Game.

A considerable crowdassembled at Island Park yesterday afternoon to witness the game of base-ball between the Old Dominion and Fulton clubs, which was very well played and spirited throughout.

Messrs. Applegate and Lucke were the battery for the Old Dominion Club, and Enright and Foster for the Fultons.

The game was characterized by the excellent playing at first of both nines, and several very creditable "stops" were made.

The score was 15 to 13 in favor of the Fultons.

An interesting game was played yesterday afternoon on the old Virginia ball-grounds between the "P. D. Q." and J. L. Hill nines. The contest was exciting throughout and was won by the J. L. Hill nine by a score of 11 to 6.

Governor of Tennessee.

(By telegraph to the Dispatch.)

Nashville. Tenn., July 19.—John P. Buchanan, the Democratic nomines for Governor of Tennessee, was born in Williamson county, Tenn., October 4, 1847. He joined the Confederate army at the age of sixteen, fought for two years, and surrendered with the army in May. 1865. He is a robust farmer and is noted for his energy and activity. He educated himself by study at home. In 1886 he was elected to the Legislature from Butherford county and became the leader in that body of the agricultural and laboring interests. He was reflected to the Legislature. He is of Scotch-Irish descent and is a first cousin of President Buchanan, at the end of whose term of office began the civil war. While his family name has been connected with history it has of late years been somewhat obscured from politics and business.

of the Grand Lodge, was also present. Much interest was manifested and a large lodge was organized. Its number will be eight, five.

As usual, Mr. Wharton is doing good work in the meeting he is carrying on here. Last night there were some eight or nine conversions and among them two gray-headed gentlemen, prominent citizens of our town. There will be three sermons tomorrow and the meeting will close that night, as Mr. Wharton sava he must leave here Monday moreing to fill other engagements.

Congressman Binger Hermann, of Ore-Congressman Binger Hermann, of Oregon, who on Monday last was re-elected to his present seat in the House, was born in Lonaconing, Alleghany county, Md., February 19, 1843. He was educated in the rural schools of Western Maryland and at the Independent Academy (afterwards Irving College), near Baltimore City. He removed cation of the correspondence the summa-ries heretofore fully and exclusively pub-lished in the Herold, and now semi-officially admitted to be a fair synopsis of the same, are the only source of accurate informaare the only source of accurate information.

If Mr. Gourley could have seen the full abstracts of the correspondence as printed in the Heraid he would have known that so far from President Harrison having notified Lord Salisbury of his purpose to deal summarily with the British scalers, he took extraordinary and indefensible means to provent his Lordship from learning of his Excellency's intentions. Some one betrayed the secret and Lord Salisbury found out through the publication of the orders to the revenue cutters how the President expected to go anead regardless of the decencies of diplomatic intercourse.

It was then he took prompt and effective steps to meet force with force and let the President know his purpose. Very reluctantly, and because he doubted the country would either sustain or condone what he had been doing when the facts should be known, the President came over to Mr. Blaine's view that common decency would not permit violence to be practiced in Behring Sea while peace was being ostentatiously proclaimed at Washington.

A NARROW ESCAPE FROM WAB.

Corwin as buccaneering orders, and took his measures accordingly. I am authoritatively informed that the protest which Lord Salisbury caused to be made to Mr. Bisine early in June singled out the new and lawless character of the measures directed to be taken against British sealers as a serious aggravation of the fundamental offence of waging a quasi war upon the flag of a friendly Power, while pretending to be in amicable negotiation with that Power upon the very question used as an excuse for an attack on that flag.

This is the President's view, and because it is his view it is going to prevail.

It is not the Blaine view.

The latter view was expressed by Mr. Hitt when he told the House that Congress needed the correspondence and that he had been told at the proper place that Congress could have it for the asking. No change of any kind has occurred since Mr. Hitt introduced nor since he passed his resolution, yet now the President says that the correspondence would do Congress and the correspondence would do Congress and the correspondence would do Congress and twenty-three days. Negotiations for the Sale of a Road.

(Special telegram to the Dispatch!

WHERLING, W. Va., July 19.—A party of prominent Baltimore and Obio officials have just returned from an inspecting tour over a number of Lastern Obio railroads. It is learned to day that as a result of the trip negotiations are in progress and nearly completed for the sale of the Bellaire. Zanesville and Obio railroad to the Baltimore and Obio. The former road is built from Bellaire to Zanesville by way of Woodsfield and Caldwell. It is ninety miles in length, and is a valuable coal-road. The road has recently been in financial straits. popular effect now, so many days after the livrad had fully summarized it, and after the President has been sitting on itse long. During Buchanan's Administration he occupied a responsible position in the Interior Department, at Washington, D. C., and took a prominent part in the political events of the day, his reminiscences of that period being peculiarly interesting and instructive. For twelve years Judge Stewart filled the position of Judge of the County Court of Page county, being succeeded in January, 1858, by Judge A. J. Brand. He was a consistent member of the Methods tehurch in this place and leaves a widow and two daughters surviving him—Mrs. Robert Jennings, of St. Louis, Mo., and Mrs. A. J. Brand, of Luray. The interment will be in Green. Hill cemetery in this place to-morrow at 9:33 A. M.

The Cloak-Makers' Troubles Ended.

(By telegraph to the Dispatch.)

New York, July 19.—What is believed to be the final settlement of the cloak-makers' troubles was reached this evening, Barondes, the Ruesian ruler of the operators, making a complete "flop" and urging the ratification of the agreement with a slight amendment. It is believed that all the men will go to work in the different shops Monday.

The Country Nearly Involved in War with

Mr. Gourley's question in the House of Commons lest night, says the Washington

the latest of many proofs of confusion in the public mind respecting the character port seriously threatens the power of the Amalgamated Association of Iron- and Steel-Workers in this destruct. The men are meeting this evening in anticipation of the steel-workers and finishers joining the strike, as the lately signed rules of the Amalgamated Association are also obnoxious to them in some respects. They provide no pay for overtime. Unless these rules are changed it is probable that all the lodges connected with the Jones & Laughlim mills will withdraw from the association.

The puddlers of the Republican IronWorks are holding meetings to-night.
Their grievances are the same, except that in addition they complain of the hard iron and demand their firm to stop using the iron made at the National Rolling-Mill at McKeesport, which is designated as nonunion material.
